DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4, 7-8 and, 38 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-4, 7-8 and, 38 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Sakata et al.

Sakata discloses an interposer (fig. 4) comprising: an array of buttons (e.g. fig. 15 &A & 7B) on a carrier (1) having a proximity to each other that allows contact between two adjacent buttons to occur when the two adjacent buttons are compressed (fig. 27) above a predetermined threshold (col. 5 lines 63-64).

Regarding claim 2 Sakata discloses that the contact between the two adjacent buttons occurs when the two adjacent buttons are axially compressed (fig. 18A) above a predetermined threshold.

Regarding claim 3 Sakata discloses that the array of buttons is arranged in a regularly spaced array (claim 1 lines 58-59).

Regarding claim 4 Sakata discloses that the array of buttons is arranged in a custom arrangement based upon positions of the contacts on one of a chip carrier (11 or 12) and a printed circuit board (11 or 12).

Regarding claim 7 Sakata discloses that the buttons comprise an elastomeric compound that has embedded metallic compounds (fig. 19).

Regarding claim 8 Sakata discloses that the buttons comprise a deformable material (col.5 lines 63-64).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 11-37 and 39 allowed.
5. Claims 5-6 and 9-10 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

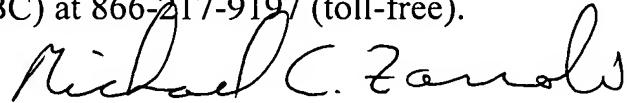

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The combination of claim 11 specifically the first faces facing each other and the second faces facing each other.
